Corin Overland received his PhD in Music Education from Temple University in Philadelphia, PA, where he held research and teaching assistantship positions. He earned his Bachelor of Arts from Gustavus Adolphus College in MN, and holds multiple certifications in choral, instrumental, and general music education. He completed his Master of Music degree in choral conducting from the University of Missouri – Kansas City Conservatory of Music under Dr. Eph Ehly. Overland has taught choral music for 14 years in Minnesota, Kansas, and Maryland. Overland is frequently in demand as a conductor, composer and independent clinician around the country, and served as the conductor for the Oregon and Delaware All-State Jr. Honor Choirs. His research interests include the history and policies of music education organizations; integrated-arts school reform models; the effects of musical training on physical coordination and timing; and the social interactions between players of musical video games, such as Guitar Hero or Rock Band. Currently, Overland is on the editorial board of MENC's Eastern Division Scholarship and Research Committee, and serves as the director of choirs at Centennial High School in Maryland.
